

AMERICAN IDOLS

PART 1

How have you been defining success in your life up until now? By what you do, by your grades, by your successes/achievements, or by something else?

PART 2

How we introduce ourselves to others, and what we talk about when we first get to know someone, says A LOT about how we define success. So when you talk about yourself with those you are just getting to know, what do you say? (Could be things like your grades, the sports you like or play, the town you live in, the fact that you are a Christian and a child of God, etc.)

PART 3

What are you working hard to achieve? (Get a high score in a video game, get all A's, learn an instrument, etc.) How much hard work are you investing in your relationship with God?
